Under the direction of Bishop Nuttal a new church building was constructed, along with a separate house for young men and a Relief Society building for the women.

Bishop Garff remodeled the church buildings and then Bishop Fullmer had them completely rebuilt.

During the term of Bishop Bigelow the church house became unusable and the school house had to be used for meetings and recreation events. However, Bishop Bigelow was killed before anything could be done toward a new building.

Early in 1949 Bishop Batty called the ward members together and presented plans for a new church building. Each family in the com-
